

Hamlet

To be, or not to be	that is the queeeeeeee eeeeeestion	Whether 'tis nobler	in the mind to suffer	Or to take aaaaaaaarms	agaaaaaaa aaainst a sea of troubles,	And by opposin g end them ?
To die:	to sleeeeeeeee eeeeeeep	No more; and by a sleep	to say we end	The heart-ache	and the thousand naaaaaaaaa aaaaaaaatur al shocks	That flesh is heir to
