

When viewed on paged media, the next line must appear on a second page.

On continuous media, however, this line must appear directly below the line above.